The Clothing War.

EDITOR GAZETTE: In the Journal of October 2d, I find an announcement signed L. Abrahams, of the White House. This announcement sets forth that other dealers in clothing keep "humbug shops" and offer "unsalable goods" to the public. He also believes that these "humbug dealers" "lie to deceive the public." I represent, for my part of the humbuggery, Mr. Editor, I represent that when I offer "unsalable goods" I always suffer for it, and not Mr. Abrahams. The people have worn my goods long enough to know better than Mr. Abrahams whether they come from a "humbug shop" or not. During my many years residence and business in Reno, I have made my own reputation and it is safe from the interested charges brought by this newcomer at the White House.

Now, whether I keep a humbug shop or not, I shall continue to sell the best goods in market and at the lowest rates. I shall sell men and boys clothing cheaper than "Whitey" can sell them. I shall keep more goods, and a reseller stock always on hand. And all of these assertions, so far from being "lies to deceive the public" can be proven by my patrons during fair week as they have been proven any time during the past ten years.

M. NATHAN,
Virginia Street.
oct-7-17

The scarcity of diamonds, gold and silver, and the difficulties met with in securing them, is a sure indication of their value. Thus it is with a valuable medicine: Dr. Aug. Kaiser's celebrated German Pulmonic Elixir, through the jealousy of rivals, has met with the most bitter opposition, and apparently almost insurmountable obstacles have been thrown in its way; but its opponents might as well try to change the course of the sun, sweep back the ocean with a broom, or put out a prairie fire with a fan. For the cure of Throat and Lung diseases, such as Coughs, Colds, Consumption, and Bronchitis, it is unequalled. Its cures are truly magical. Ask your druggists, OSEBURN & SHOEMAKER, for it. The genuine bears the Prussian Coat of Arms, the fac-simile signature of Dr. Aug. Kaiser, and has his name blown on every 75-cent bottle. Trial bottle, 25 cents. auted

A CARD TO THE PUBLIC.—I do not sell any goods 20 per cent. below cost, or even at cost, but I offer my first-class stock of clothing, furnishing goods, boots and shoes, hats and caps, trunks and valises, which have been bought for cash at the lowest market rates. Therefore I wish the public to post themselves on my prices before going to the humbug shops where they are always drumming into the ear that they are selling at cost, or below cost. They either bought unsalable goods or they lie to deceive the public; they don't deserve to be patronized. Remember the One Price Store—The White House—No. 19 Commercial Row, next door to the postoffice. L. ABRAHAM.

RENO AND SURPRISE VALLEY.—Calderwood & Kern's stages will leave Reno hereafter on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, at 2 o'clock A. M., and reach Bidwell, Surprise Valley, at 6 o'clock on the following days. Returning, will leave Willow Ranch at 7 A. M. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, arriving in Reno at 9 P. M. on the following days. Fare, $20 each way. Freight on baggage over 30 pounds, 8 cents per pound. Office at Hammond & Wilson's stable, opposite Railroad depot. JOHN WILSON, Agent. oct-12-17

NOTICE.—Having established a purchasing agency, Mr. L. Bien will give his personal attention to orders of any kind, such as boots and shoes, furniture, crockery, carpets, millinery goods, groceries, etc. Being in constant business relations and having a thorough acquaintance with all the leading houses, ladies, in ordering through Mr. Bien, will receive the full benefit of his experience, and find it more advantageous than doing their own shopping. Address letters, P. O. box 240, Sacramento, Cal. oct-12-17

INCORPORATION.

The question of town government for Reno is again provoking discussion. There is but one element in the discussion which will produce a difference of opinion. Anybody can see the evils which affect the town because we have no organization in the community. To have a proper and adequate system in the administration of town affairs requires a special tax. How much shall the tax be then?

That question can only be answered when the method is prescribed. Each property holder no doubt has peculiar notions regarding this branch of the subject and unless an early agreement can be had the proposition can not be determined. The project of imposing an extra tax upon our people is a matter for the tax-payers themselves to discuss. They said once that the benefits of a town organization were not sufficient to counterbalance the necessary expense. Have they changed their opinions?

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Youth's Companion of Boston is a journal which should be in the hands of every pious child. The editor takes the jokes of the GAZETTE and carefully eliminates everything injurious from them, and although the jokes suffer the susceptible mind of youth is saved from the shock of seeing in print such dreadful expressions as "the devil." Harper's Essex is less careful. It had last week the GAZETTE's account of a remarkable civil marriage performed by Judge Richardson and boldly printed the "damn" which graced the original. The contamination which this will produce upon the female population of this country is too awful to think of. The editor of the Youth's Companion probably turned faint when he saw it.

General Howard, in his annual report, earnestly recommends that the Umatilla Indians, who served the government with fidelity, be rewarded, and that all who assisted the hostiles be sent to some remote place whence they cannot easily return. It is difficult, he says, to state where the blame for last season's outbreak should lie, but certainly none of it can be imputed to that portion of the army within the department of the Columbia.

The GAZETTE has studied this matter some and believes that the Indians were slightly in fault regarding the seals, while the agents were not wholly innocent in the flour and bacon matters. The soldiers of General Howard were entirely blameless during the war, for the telegrams always reported him three days in the rear.

The Eureka Sentinel is very glad that Senator Jones will go east before our Legislature meets. The Sentinel thinks this will prove that something can be done without coin in Nevada. The idea is not new, but such proof as the Sentinel offers will give it a new appearance. It may be noticed here that whenever the Sentinel attempts originality the thought is generally clothed very scantily and suffers by contact with the air.

The attempts which several of our exchanges are making to explain the stock break are very instructive. One point about the effort is not plain to us. Those journals have been called upon for a like explanation twice in each year, and we can not see that they have improved over the first bungling attempt. The man who allows any one to explain just why he has been robbed will undoubtedly be robbed again.

Rev. J. Hyatt Smith says that he recently received a letter exhorting him to be perfect; "that the writer folded it into a newspaper, wrapped it so that the manuscript could not be seen, and then put a one cent stamp on it. That man wrote six pages on sinless perfection, and then cheated the government out of two cents."

Rev. J. Hyatt Smith's point is a good one, but it nevertheless remains that a man who chops up his name as he does ought not to be written to.

The local page of the Virginia Chronicle is covered with accounts of the great "stock smash," and the misery growing out of it. At the head of its columns appears an article which proves raining to be the most profitable of all industries. Take your choice.

The coat of tar and feathers, frequently worn by citizens of Reno who have managed to get themselves disliked, is now known throughout the state as "the Reno ulcer."—Eureka Leader.

Exactly, and whenever a new comer displays ulterior notions in regard to society, peace and quiet, just at that time our citizens begin to harbor ulterior designs against his person.

The working classes could not do better than tie their interests to the Post.—S. F. Post.

That would be just as good as getting high wages.

Old Shere Ali must be a relative of Deacon Parkinson. Both are very prominent members of the Shere family.

If some people were to follow their nose, it would lead them to heaven.—S. F. Post.

Not yours, old man, not yours. That pillar of fire points another way.

Does running water purify itself?—Oakland Tribune.

What'll you give if we tell you.

THE PANIC.

Causes of the Break—Various Opinions.

The San Francisco papers contain accounts of interviews with all of the leading operators as to the causes which led to the crash in stocks.

E. J. Baldwin did not see why there should be any question as to the cause of the break. That report of Mackay's started it, and Flood had been selling heavily. If the clearing house books could be got at they would show that Flood had been selling enough to create a corner in coin. Baldwin was very decided in his explanation of this disaster.

Wm. M. Lent declared that he was not in the market at all, but if he was he would be loaded down with Sierra Nevada. Every report from the mine was encouraging. He did not believe that Flood was to be charged with the deep damnation of this bloody business. But there were evidently causes. He had heard a person remark that if he was Flood he would keep himself steady. "If I were Flood," continued Mr. Lent, with emphasis, "I would come right down on the street. If a man cannot walk the streets, whether stocks go up or down it is time to know it."

The Chronicle says: "Many of these informed of the circumstances of the quarrel between the Union and the Sierra Nevada mines concerning the disputed territory, and who have full faith in the stability of the present bonanza, are inclined to attribute the disastrous break of yesterday to the intrigues about for the contest of Flood and his associates to oust Skae from the control of the Sierra Nevada. The bonanza lies in the 300 feet of disputed ground, and only 60 feet from the north line of the Union territory not disputed. The bend of the ledge, it is asserted, tends toward the Union, with the possibility of throwing the main ore body into the Union territory. Negotiations were recently opened between Flood and Skae for the settlement of the dispute, but as the overtures made by Flood were deemed too grasping, Skae defiantly repulsed them, and the war of intrigue which culminated in the disastrous break, commenced. It is the supposition of many, that Flood, in carrying out his scheme to vanquish Skae, is smashing the market to enable him the more easily to force the stock and get it in at low prices."

I. M. Glazier & Co., representing the Sierra Nevada combination, have a large amount of stock hypothecated to the Nevada bank people, and are thus called upon for a heavy amount of coin. Skae is indebted to Glazier & Co. $800,000 on the security of 21,000 shares of Sierra Nevada stock, and the movement is evidently designed to bring out the stock. Skae is further indebted to Flood for $350,000 on the security of Virginia City water stock. It is thus seen that the Nevada bank has drawn a tight lariat on the rival combinations, and the thousands who have been wrecked in fortune will watch the progress of the struggle with melancholy interest."

The Greatest Horse in the World.

[New York Sun.]

There seems to be no doubt entertained among experienced and skilled horsemen that the bay gelding, Edwin Forest, lately purchased by Mr. Bonner for the comparatively moderate sum of $16,000, is the most remarkable trotter in the world. At Hartford, on the 22d of August, he trotted a mile in 2:14½. And yet he is only seven years old, and is not supposed by any one to have reached the top of his speed. The theory of many horsemen that the fastest horse would be a large horse, is sustained by this early performance of Forest. He is sixteen hands high. At the same time he is handsome and well proportioned. Some things which would seem extravagant about any horse, are said of the performances of Forest, and yet old horsemen tell us they are perfectly true. For instance, so careful a paper as the Spirit of the Times, in an account of Forest's trotting at Hartford, says: "If ever a two-minute gait was struck by a trotter, it was by Edwin Forest in this quarter." Either all the trotting men have lost their heads or the horse has no equal.

O'Leary Challenged by Brown.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—"Blower" Brown, of Fulham, has deposited £10 to bind a match with O'Leary for the long distance championship of the world and the Astley belt. He is willing to walk in Chicago or New York, and proposes some time in February, so as not to interfere with the international competition in London in the spring.

MRS. RALSTON.

Her Relatives Appeal to the Probate Court to Prevent Her from Frittering Away Her Property.

[S. F. Post, Thursday.]

It will be recollected that at the time of the sad death of Wm. C. Ralston his friends provided for his widow and children by making her a present, in money and property, of about $200,000. About a year or so ago she fell under the pernicious influence of an adventurer, who succeeded in dissipating fully one-half of her fortune. Some months ago Mrs. Ralston returned to the city and is now stopping at the Palace hotel. Her friends, to prevent her from squandering the remainder of her property, applied, some time ago, to the probate court to appoint a guardian for her person and estate. The action was brought some months ago, and was on the point of being compromised through the intervention of A. A. Cohen, who was acting in the capacity of a friend. It was arranged that she was to have the benefit of the proceeds from an investment of $100,000, the balance of her estate, but that she could not touch the principal. Subsequent to this she made a demand upon Mr. Cohen for the sum of $20,000. This he declined to furnish, saying that she could only receive $500, the amount of the monthly installment upon the investment for her benefit. Thereupon she withdrew from the arrangement and secured two lawyers to represent her. The action has been commenced by A. J. Ralston, her brother-in-law, J. D. Fry, her uncle, and J. C. L. Wadsworth, and the pleadings allege that of the fortune of about $200,000 given to her, Mrs. Ralston had already squandered about $120,000 in reckless living and supporting and maintaining one or more persons having no legal claim upon her. It is also alleged that there is in the possession of Wells, Fargo & Co. some $40,000 belonging to Mrs. Ralston, and of which she has demanded payment, and the prayer is that in order to prevent Mrs. Ralston and her children from becoming a charge upon public or private charity, and because of her mental incompetency to manage her estate, a guardian be appointed to take charge of her estate and of her person. The order forbidding the payment by Wells, Fargo & Co. of the money was made until the action should be disposed of, but by a subsequent order Mrs. Ralston was enabled to obtain $4000. It is believed that the adventurer, has inspired her to make the effort to recover the balance. In the action now pending Messrs. Pixley and Harrison will represent Mrs. Ralston, while the trustees will be represented by W. H. L. Barnes.

The case was called in the probate court to-day and went over by consent until the 29th instant at two o'clock, when the application for letters will be heard.

A FOOLISH VIRGIN

[Oakland Tribune, Wednesday.]

A young woman who gave the name of Mattie Gray was brought to the Central station this morning by officer Randlett on a suspicion of something—the officer hardly knew what. He arrested her at Broadway station where he saw her get off of the local train. She was clad in male attire and wore a mustache, and although she was to all appearances a neatly dressed and natty looking gentleman, the officer's eye happened to light upon her as she was getting off the train and he knew from the way she came down the steps that she was a woman; she could not imitate the style of the gentleman coming down stairs. When she was accused of being a woman she was covered with confusion and acknowledged the truth of the charge. She had a valise with her and Captain Fletcher allowed her the use of his private office while she changed her clothes and donned the habiliments proper to her sex. She lost by the change, as she is not near so good looking a woman as she was in the character of an imitation gentleman. She had $229.50 and a watch in her pockets, and although there is no ordinance in this city making the wearing of men's clothes by women a crime, or vice versa, Captain Fletcher thought from the amount of money she had, she might have skipped from somewhere to somebody's disadvantage, and concluded to detain her for a short time to await developments. She says she is twenty years of age and arrived in San Francisco from the East three months ago, since which time she has continually worn the bifurcated garments. She says she assumed them that she might better be able to obtain employment. She is of medium size, dark eyes and hair and dresses in deep black. The police authorities of San Francisco were notified by telegraph and requested to communicate if she was wanted there.

Jim Keene on Silver.

I have no apprehension of any particular danger, but I think that money may at any moment become very tight. Our banks have committed the stupidity of publicly declaring that the silver dollar wasn't a dollar, and that they wouldn't receive deposits in silver, except by special agreement. They have also declared that the man who deposits his money in gold is not necessarily entitled to receive it back again in gold, and may be compelled to take it in greenbacks. Now, with the majority of the people, such statement are not likely to do any good. It might become their natural tendency to hoard gold. They will draw on the revenues of the banks; that will make money scarce, and Wall street operators might find it very expensive to carry stock. We must not make the mistake of thinking that the mass of the working people are for silver. They are for it only as a medium of semi-inflation, but the moment the workingman has accumulated any savings his first tendency is to invest them in gold, not in silver coin.

How the Indian Civilizes.

[Washington Post.]

It is a curious fact in connection with Indian civilization that the aboriginal readily takes to all the vices of the whites, but is very wary of their virtues. As a rule, isolated Indian tribes, who have had no contact either with whites or with Indians who have been corrupted by such contact, are absolutely honest and strictly temperate. Unguarded property is safe in their villages, and they are free from those mean and despicable vices which make the average frontier Indian a disgusting and annoying pest. It requires many generations to complete the work of civilizing a tribe. Their aptitude in vice and their aversion to the better habits and customs of civilized society render their mental and moral elevation a tedious, toilsome process. Still, the Indian is capable of ascending to the highest plane in culture and morals, as is shown by some representatives of the Choctaws, Cherokees, Chickasaws, Seminoles, and Creeks who have visited the national capital; and while this result is possible no reasonable effort for his elevation should be spared.

A Talk with a Striker.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—A Glasgow special gives a talk with a working-man now on a strike. He says the resolutions of the Clyde ship-builders' and engineers' association, which went into force the 21st of October, reducing our wages no less than seven and a half per cent., has been a cause of bitterness of feeling between master and men. Their motto toward us has been, "No mercy," and we will give as good as we get. We number over 20,000 members in England, Ireland and Scotland, and we have at the present moment over $300,000 in the general fund. I hope we shan't see labor riots, but things look as if they were drifting that way very quickly."

Contradictory Stories About the Stewart Robbers.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20th.—An "extra" says from information received to-day from sources which do not admit of a question of their veracity, it is safe to say the remains of Mr. Stewart are now in possession of the estate. Of the five principles in the affair four are now in custody, and the leader remains to be captured. Superintendent of police Walling states that he has neither knowledge of the recovery of Stewart's body nor any clue. The "extra" regards as merely a sensational story. The superintendent also says the "suspects" arrested are not suspected of connection with the Stewart robbery.

JOTTINGS.

— The ladies of the Methodist church are making preparations for their grand Thanksgiving day dinner.

— The $3 assessment on Sierra Nevada is delinquent to-day. This is the nature of rubbing it in.

— The wind has been sending the dust flying through the streets to-day, to the severe bedevilment of the Reno eye.

— Notwithstanding the tar bucket, which has made Reno famous, there are a good many blacklegs and other bad characters in town.

— Tar-and-feather Jones kept up his lick, it seems, at Truckee. He did not pay the colored person and Chinaman who toiled upon his person with oil, soap and brush.

— As the merchants will give no credit after Dec. 1st the provident man is now getting all the tick he can.

— The many friends of Miss Alice McGinley will be sorry to learn that she is lying at death's door. She is afflicted with heart disease.

— W. L. Needham will sell at auction on the 27th at the Centennial restaurant all the furniture of a lodging house. The sale will commence at 10 o'clock.

— The selfishness of human nature is glaringly exemplified in the man who staggers around all alone in a winter this cold weather, when whole poor families are crowded into one little shanty.

— Those who have been cleaned out rather rejoiced than otherwise this afternoon at the report that Sierra Nevada had touched 43. A few bets were offered that it would be down to 25 to-morrow.

— Much of Reno's beauty is gone. The trees are less, the gardens flowerless and their shrubs wrapped up in flannel overcoats. The lawns are returned brown and everything is ready for the beautiful snow.

Only a Little Corkscrew.

Only a little broken corkscrew. It lay upon the reportorial table this morning. Only a little broken corkscrew. It is not much, certainly, and to the prosaic soul hath no tender suggestiveness. But to the man of sentiment what a significance is there in a little broken corkscrew! So frail, so graceful and yet so strong. The soul rises up and reaches out the arms of touching memories and grabs the stricken spiral thing to itself and folds it to its sobbing embrace. Broken as it is, that little corkscrew pulls out the plug which for long years has kept dry the fountain of tears. God help us all! Each knows the weak places in his own heart. With one it is a little withered flower, another, a soft odor, a strain of gentle music by night when the breeze moves tremulously among the leaves that but tremble to fall. But when any of these lays its finger with never so light a touch upon the place, how we live again! The past is the present and the present is gone. That's just the way the GAZETTE reporter is dug up. Dear little corkscrew!

The Best Girls.

The following is the roll of honor for Bishop Whitaker's school for girls for the month ending Nov. 20, 1878: Mary Hornbeck 98.5, Nettie Chase 99, May Carr 98.5, Mollie Grippen 98.3, Grace Dowdell 98.2, May Benham 97.7, Nellie Clarke 97.4, Ada Manheim 97.4, Ella McKay 97.1, Maggie Dyer 96.8, Addie Stowe 96.4, Emma Noltemeir 96.3.

A COMBINATION RUNAWAY.

What One Bucking Mustang Accomplished.

To-day at noon a grand combination runaway took place. Tom Sanders, a vaquero in the employ of Tom Fox of North Pyramid was in the full enjoyment of a bucking mustang at the corner of Commercial Row and Virginia street, when the saddle turned and landed him on his back. The horse reared and jumped, but Sanders hung on to the halter and was dragged through a mud puddle a distance of some forty feet, leaving a deep wake as if a dug-out had been hauled through the mire. The frantic animal broke away from him and took to the sidewalk, leaving Sanders the muddest human being in the world. Tar-and-feather Jones in the height of his punishment was a beauty compared to him. The horse dashed up Commercial Row, his hind hoofs going through the wooden grating in front of Osborne & Shoemaker's drug store. Thence the beast fled as far as Hagerman's corner where the horse and delivery wagon of the house were standing. Here Sanders' horse, kicking and plunging because of the saddle under him, bounded into the street. Hagerman's horse darted across the railroad track and scampered past the GAZETTE office up Sierra street, where he was speedily stopped, but not before having caused the worst runaway of the series. A four-horse team hitched to an empty hay-wagon, belonging to A. J. Clarke was standing in front of the store. The animals took fright and started up Sierra street at a terrific pace, turning Mr. Luke's blacksmith shop and then down Fourth street. A little seven-year-old son of Mr. Clarke was in the wagon and hung on for life to the front upright of the hay frame. Scores of men on foot and a number on horseback took after the flying team, everyone fearing momentarily to see the wagon upset and the child killed. The tremendous speed of the four terrified horses beat the horsemen, but the boy escaped harm by a miracle. When about half a mile from town the wagon struck a boulder and the rear axle broke and although a rope kept the wagon together for a few seconds the horses were soon free and the shaver standing amid the wreck uninjured except a few scratches. A young man on horseback stopped the team just beyond Winfrey's, and the beasts were found to be unhurt. Sanders' horse is probably at Pyramid by this time. It is as singular, as fortunate, that nobody was hurt by all this charging of half a dozen horses assisted by two wagons.

The Wine House Robbed.

The Wine House till was robbed yesterday morning. The house was closed at 4 A. M. and reopened two hours afterwards when it was found that the money drawer had been wrestled from its fastenings and $60 in coin taken. A heavy gold ring was left behind, the thief evidently not caring to burden himself with anything, however valuable, which might increase the chances of his identification. A window in the rear was found open and the iron shutters thrown open indicating the way of escape. It is evident that the thief had spotted the position of the till, hid himself in the cellar, allowed himself to be locked in and then made his haul.

A Leg Broken.

Yesterday afternoon a man named Allen met with a severe and painful accident at Crystal Peak. He was loading wood from the flume on a wagon when a lot fell upon him crushing both bones of his left leg between the ankle and the knee. Dr. Dawson was sent for and set the fractured limb.

A Business Proclamation.

Read the proclamation of Manning & Duck in another column. Low prices and a strictly cash business on and after December 1st. The reasons for the change are clearly set forth and interesting information is given old creditors.

NEW DEPARTURE.—On and after December 1st, 1878, the store of Manning & Duck will be conducted on a cash basis. Every customer will be compelled to pay for his own goods. No extra profits for bad debts. We propose to sell goods cheaper than they have ever been sold in this market. We are compelled to this important step by several weighty reasons: First, we wish to encourage prompt payment. Second, the prompt payer should not be compelled to pay an extra profit for the slow customer or the man that never pays. Third and most important reason, we are not able to carry so large an amount of capital on our books and keep up our stock of goods. Good gilt-edge customers will be allowed a credit of thirty days. If by agreement, longer time is given, interest of 1 1/2 per cent a month will be charged. A. H. MANNING.

CLOTHING.—Grand Reopening of the White House, next door to Postoffice. Having purchased the entire stock of Men's and Boys' Clothing and Furnishing Goods of Messrs. Cohen & Isaacs, and made a large addition thereto, I am prepared to sell this clothing at lower rates than any merchant in Reno. I respectfully solicit the patronage of the public, and am convinced that on the examination of my stock, and the price at which I sell, that no person who gives me a call will go away empty handed. L. ARRAINS.

I give special attention to Physician's prescriptions, filling them promptly and accurately. Making my own fluid extracts, elixirs etc., I propose to fill prescriptions from medicines of known purity and strength, at as little cost to the consumer as possible. Call at Queen's Drug store, Virginia street. 5-24

The remarkable virtues of the combination of Benzoin, Glycerine, Honey, etc. [See my formula in GAZETTE Nov. 18th] known as Myotic Balm, for chapping of the skin, etc. being now acknowledged by all, I will only say that I keep it constantly prepared from the best materials and every kind of medicinal and toilet preparations of the first quality, at my laboratory and prescription drug store, Opera House, west side Virginia Street, Reno, Nevada. R. E. QUEEN 11-17

FURNITURE FOR SALE.—Mr. G. Stark has been appointed agent of the California Furniture Manufacturing company, of San Francisco. He will sell furniture at the very lowest figures. Fine black walnut sets, marble top and of the latest pattern. $75 and upward. Other articles as chairs, desks, sofas etc., in like proportion. Furniture sold by order from pictures.
